

Role: Web Developer
Location: On site, Ahmedabad
Experience: 0-2 years
Job type: Full time
Salary: ₹4.8 - ₹7.2 Lakhs a year (based on experience and skill)

How to apply:

- Send your resume to jobs@menstrupedia.com
- Mention in subject: Application for Web Developer
- Include a paragraph on why you think you are most suitable for the role

About us

Menstrupedia is the world's most innovative company when it comes to teaching and learning about puberty. We aim at eliminating the social stigma and discrimination around menstruation and make the years of adolescence an enriching experience for children. We are enabling this by creating educational materials like Menstrupedia Comic, Gulu Comic, Hello Periods and TruBuddy.me that make it extremely easy for parents and teachers to overcome their inhibitions and teach children about growing up at the right age.

Menstrupedia Comic is a complete guide on periods designed by the Menstrupedia team. It is available in 17 languages and is being used by more than 25,500 schools as a part of their curriculum across India. The books are being used by 20 countries across the world to teach and learn about menstruation. Apart from India, the comic books are locally printed and distributed in Hungary, United States, Malaysia, Egypt, Nepal, China, Bangladesh, Uruguay, Zimbabwe and Brazil.

More information about our work can be found on www.menstrupedia.com & www.trubuddy.me

Awards & Recognition

Shark Tank India Winners
Business Today Most Powerful Women in Impact 2018
Forbes India 30 Under 30: Batch of 2014

In the Media

TED: <https://bit.ly/3pUki0K>
TIME Magazine: <https://time.com/4590678/menstrupedia-aditi-gupta-taboo-india/>
The Logical Indian: <https://bit.ly/3sYHOLV>

Position Summary

You will be part of our growth team where you'll be working with other engineers and designers to build new features for our existing web and mobile applications. You will also be responsible for creating web applications for internal use for automation and making our marketing and operations more efficient.

If you are someone who has a passion for creating web and mobile applications to provide amazing user experience and you want your coding skills to bring a huge social impact in the lives of children, this opportunity is perfect for you.

The Job Role and Responsibilities

- You'll build new features for our web and mobile applications.
- You'll maintain the existing codebase, refactoring the code and removing bugs as and when needed.

Competencies and Skills Required

- You are proficient with Javascript, HTML, CSS.
- You have completed or about to complete graduation in computer science or equivalent.
- You are comfortable communicating in English for work related communications.

Preferred Qualifications

- You have at least 12 months of professional experience in developing web or mobile applications.
- You are proficient in React.js and Laravel.
- You have a basic understanding of UI design.

Work Culture at Menstrupedia

At Menstrupedia you'll find a culture that fosters constant growth and learning so that you grow on a professional as well as personal level. You would be part of a close-knit team that actively collaborates and even coaches each other. We have an open work culture with a flat hierarchy where everyone's just a call away. When you take up a task, you own it and have the freedom to succeed at it your way.

Company culture document here: <https://www.menstrupedia.com/how-to-work>

How to apply:

- Send your resume to jobs@menstrupedia.com
- Mention in subject: Application for Web Developer
- Include a paragraph on why you think you are most suitable for the role